

Landscaping at St. Kevin's

Eleven brothers, two sisters and three squires helped lay the new sod at St. Kevin's parish over a 2-day period on Saturday and Sunday, July 5-6, 2008. The landscaping completed the work of beautifying the Côte-des-Neiges side of the church after the concrete steps leading to the main entrance of the church had been replaced by a contractor at the beginning of June. Three pallets of sod delivered on Friday, July 4, were used to do the work. Lunch was served to the participants each day, chicken on Saturday and Chinese food on Sunday. Many parishioners were impressed with the new lawn at the front of the church.

Weekend camping trip

Around 12 families comprising about 30 people attended the third annual camping excursion to Camping Daoust in Hudson, Québec on the weekend of July 11-13, 2008. There was a big campfire each evening with roasted marshmallows for the young ones. During the day, the adults chatted and prepared the meals while the children were busy with exploration and playing volleyball, swimming and catching wild bunny rabbits, one of which was given to sister Evelyn Calusa. The campground operators chose a Halloween theme for their site this year and put together a horror house which was a great hit with the kids.
